

Felician Volunteers in Mission Consumer Report Disclosure

The Felician Sisters of North America, (the “company”) intends to obtain and use a consumer report or an investigative consumer report from Justifacts Credential Verification, Inc, an external consumer reporting agency. These purposes may include but are not limited to:

- considering your volunteer or internship application;
- making a decision whether to offer you an opportunity with the company;
- doing periodic rescreening of current volunteers and interns; and/or
- making any other organizational decisions affecting you.

A consumer reporting agency is a person or business that regularly assembles or evaluates consumer credit information or other information on consumers. As an applicant, you are considered a “consumer” under the Fair Credit Reporting Act.

A consumer report may include information about your character, general reputation, personal characteristics, or mode of living, which is used or collected for employment purposes. An investigative consumer report also involves personal interviews with sources such as employers, educators, etc.

You have a right to request disclosures of the nature and scope of any investigative consumer report that the company obtains about you by contacting Justifacts Credential Verification, Inc. You also have other rights under the Fair Credit Reporting Act, a summary of which is available at:
